Write a sentence for each Literary Device about the Peconic Estuary. Then use these sentences to help you develop a fictional story. You can be the main character or perhaps you tell a story through the eyes of water, wildlife, or plants. What is the message you'd like to share in your story? A story that shows pollution impacts to a certain animal? Or a story that showcases the fun and beauty of the bay? When it comes to scientific content, fiction can be just as impactful as non-fiction!
